

On July 12th Congresswoman Slaughter spoke with Ed Shultz about the Reciprocal Markets Access Act and the need for a new era in trade.

The Reciprocal Markets Access Act would put an end to the era of giveaway free trade deals like NAFTA. Through tough enforcement mechanisms, American manufacturers would finally be guaranteed open foreign markets and level playing field against foreign competition.

Listen to Congresswoman Slaughter's interview with Ed Shultz below: